

Over 80 years of commitment to the care of wounds

Mölnlycke Health Care is delighted to partner with In This Together on this special edition, dedicated to people with diabetes-related foot ulcers (DFU) or those caring for someone living with a DFU.

As a world-leading MedTech company that specialises in innovative solutions for wound care and surgical procedures, Mölnlycke Health Care is committed to enhancing healthcare performance – whether in the hospital or at home.

Our commitment goes beyond providing innovative wound care solutions; we aspire to improve the lives of individuals facing the challenges of wounds of any type. We understand that living with a wound impacts on every aspect of daily life. We also appreciate both the physical and emotional toll that living with a long-term condition such as diabetes can create, not just on the people who have them, but also on their caregivers. That is why we have collaborated on this special DFU issue of In This Together;

Mölnlycke Health Care is delighted to partner with In This Together on this special DFU edition... to support you and your family members, offering knowledge, encouragement and a reminder that you are not alone.

to provide you with the valuable information you need to help you to care for yourself or your loved one at each stage of the healing journey. Please read the main In This Together

Wounds Issue in conjunction with this edition on DFU. Together, the magazines will provide general practical tips and information on caring for your wounds at home, plus DFU-specific information, to support you and your family members with knowledge, encouragement, and a reminder that you are not alone.

Mölnlycke Health Care and In This Together are here to support you, enhance your well-being, and contribute to the improvement of your daily life.
