

Over 80 years of commitment to the care of wounds

Mölnlycke Health Care is delighted to partner with In This Together on this special edition, dedicated to people with venous leg ulcers (VLU) or those caring for someone living with a VLU.

Mölnlycke Health Care is delighted to partner with In This Together on this special VLU edition... to support you and your family members, offering knowledge, encouragement and a reminder that you are not alone.

As a world-leading MedTech company that specialises in innovative solutions for wound care and surgical procedures, Mölnlycke Health Care is committed to enhancing healthcare performance – whether in the hospital or at home.

Our commitment goes beyond providing innovative wound care solutions; we aspire to improve the lives of individuals facing the challenges of wounds of any type. We understand that living with a wound impacts on every aspect of daily life. We also appreciate both the physical and emotional toll that living with a long-term condition such as venous disease can create, not just on the people who have them, but also on their caregivers.

That is why we have collaborated on this special VLU issue of In This Together; to provide you with valuable information to help you to care for yourself or your loved one at each and every step of the healing journey. Please read our main Wounds issue in conjunction with this focused edition on VLU. Together, the magazines will provide general practical tips and information on caring for your wounds at home, plus VLU-specific information. We hope this offers advice to you and your family members, as well as knowledge, encouragement, and a reminder that you are not alone.

Mölnlycke Health Care and In This Together are here to support you, enhance your well-being, and contribute to the improvement of your daily life.
